DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Perry (United States Patent No. 5,817,143).

Perry discloses a stencil comprising a generally flat flexible portion 12 and a cut-out portion formed within the confines of the flexible portion. The cut-out portion includes walls 22 having a thickness of 1/16 inch. The flexible portion forms an opening adjacent the cut-out portion (see figure 2, col. 4, lines 23-24). The flexible portion has a thickness of 1/16 inch (see col. 4, lines 11-14). And the cut-out portion forms an opening in the flexible portion. The walls are attached to and extend from the flexible portion. The flexible portion includes multiple cut-out portions 14.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Polito (United States patent No. 5,427,121) in view of Maxwell (United States patent No. 4,135,020).

Polito discloses the invention essentially as claimed except for the cut-out portion having walls of a thickness of about 1 mm. Maxwell discloses a stencil in which the cut-out portions include walls of varying thickness adjacent the opening in the stencil so as to form a Bas-relief design. It would have been obvious to provide the stencil of Polito with walls about the cut-out portion in view of Maxwell in order to form a Bas-relief design. To make the walls at least 1 mm would have been further obvious, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10-14 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 07 July 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's arguments that the device of Perry is not "adapted for contact with a portion of fingernail or toenail", it has been held that the recitation that an element is "adapted to" perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

In response to applicant's argument that Maxwell is nonanalogous art, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention. See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, Maxwell is reasonably pertinent in that it discloses using a stencil having raised walls in order to make a three dimensional design.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
